

MICHAEL CORBITT Vice President, South Region Retail

Mike Corbitt joined Harsch in 2000 to spearhead the Alameda Towne Centre (then South Shore Center) redevelopment project managing day-to-day operations and leasing. After 10 years and an $85M redevelopment, Harsch sold the project for $181M to German-owned Jamestown Properties. Mike now directs the South Region Retail portfolio which currently includes two redevelopment projects – 111 Town Center in Palm Desert, and Von Karman Plaza in Irvine – as well as two centers in Las Vegas and one shopping center in La Quinta . Prior to working at Harsch, Mike worked for Trammel Crow in their Foster City office. Mike is an active member of ICSC. He and his family reside in Livermore, CA.
